Let us look to the future

As we approach our second post-war Christmas and the New Year, it is well to reflect on the events of the past twelve months, and to look into the future.

The record of 1946 is not one of which the American people can be proud. The nation's reconversion program has been snarled by much internal strife and ill feeling. We have not "measured up." On the other hand, we have many things for which to be thankful. Our great and beautiful land was not ravaged by war. We are rich in natural resources. We have the intelligence, ability and tools to produce. Despite shortages, we enjoy the highest standard of living in the world. Above all, we still have the freedom and right to choose our own way of life.

So, at this season of good will and good cheer, let all of us look to the future with strong faith in our country. Let us accept the challenge of the New Year . . . and work together in the good old common sense American way for the welfare and progress of our nation, and for a lasting peace among mankind.

In this spirit, the Norfolk and Western Family extends to all of its friends and patrons heartiest Christmas greetings and best wishes for a happier and more prosperous New Year.

Income of U. S. for 1947 Put at $175,000,000,000

WASHINGTON.—Bureau of agricultural economics predicted that the national income will climb to a record peak of 175 billion dollars in 1947 but start tapering off toward the end of the year.

Such an income would be about six per cent above this year's estimated 165 billion dollars, the highest on record to date.

The bureau's 1947 estimates were in a report prepared for the agriculture department's outlook conference of farm officials. The bureau said a high level of domestic industrial activity and relatively full employment during most of 1947 will contribute substantially to higher consumer incomes.

It said industrial production, measured by the Federal Reserve board index, may average as much as 10 per cent higher than this year and close to 85 per cent above the 1935-39 average. This prediction was hedged with the provision that production is not retarded by major labor-management disputes.

The bureau looks, however, for somewhat of a decline in industrial production during the latter part of the year, as a backlog of consumer demand for industrial products becomes more nearly satisfied. Such a downturn in production would be reflected in lower incomes of workers in affected industries.

French Archeologists Find Ancient City in Holy Land

JERUSALEM. — French archeologists have announced the discovery of traces of a city dating back possibly 5,000 years in north-central Palestine.

The site of the city, found 20 feet below the desert after three months of careful digging by the French Biblican and Archeological school under direction of Father de Vaux, is so situated that discoverers said it might be the old Israelite capital of Tirza. However, Father de Vaux cautioned against "prematurely placing importance on the discovery."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

OLD JUDGE: "Looks like you're going to be better off on dairy feed this winter, Claude. We've got a big crop of wheat and the outlook for corn is fine, too."

CLAUDE: "That's right, Judge. I hope the distillers will get more grain now."

OLD JUDGE: "You must be using distillers' dried grains, Claude."

CLAUDE: "I sure do, Judge, whenever I can get them. They are the best protein feed I've ever used. I figure I get anywhere from 120 per cent more butterfat when I use them in my dairy ration."

OLD JUDGE: "It's too bad, Claude, that more people don't know how important these dried concentrates are to you farmers. When you hear folks talking about distillers wasting grain they just don't realize how much of it is recovered and returned to the farm in a much more nourishing form than the original grain."

CLEM: "You said it, Judge. If we could get all the distillers' dried grains we need we'd not only step up the production of all dairy products, but we'd fatten our beef cattle and hogs much faster and get them to market quicker."

Do you think steel profits are big?

Recently in a nation-wide poll most people guessed that steel profits were about 20 cents on each dollar of sales. They said 10 cents would be about right.

Actually, for the past ten years steel company profits have averaged less than 5 cents on each dollar of sales.

Although profits continue low, wages, employment and production are near record levels.
